BOOTH.

AMERICA'S GREATEST ACTOR PLAYS IN LOS ANGELES.

His Opening in "Richelieu"—Greeted, as Befits His Fame, with a Large, Fashionable and Representative Audience—The Play and the House.

As, in the visit of Patti, Los Angeles enjoyed the pleasure of listening to the queen of song, so in the appearance of Edwin Booth we are privileged to witness the performance of the man who has won the proud distinction of being the geatest living American actor, and our cup of satisfaction should now be nearly full.

Richelieu, the play chosen for the occasion of Mr. Booth's first appearance here, is a favorite among leading actors as a medium through which to make the acquaintance of a new audience. Lord Lytton's verse, stilted as it often is, and full or glittering tropes and sounding periods, is well calculated to catch the popular applause; and this piece especially contains enough dramatic situations to ensure its warm reception, even when rendered by a company less able than presented it last night. The alterations, made with the consent of Mr. Booth, in the play cannot but be regarded as improvements for the purposes of stage presentation, and the object in view—that of giving prominence to an idealized poetic conception of an historical character—is in keeping with the refinement of Mr. Booth's treatment of the part in action.

In the performance last night, watched as it was by a crowded and delighted house, whose close attention was its sincerest compliment, it was noticeable that the tragedian seemed disinclined to make any extra effort during the first three acts of the play or to use any exertion for the purpose of winning the sympathies of his audience. Every look and gesture appropriate to the situation was given, not an inflection was omitted, perhaps; and the musical roll of a still fine voice gave effect to the rythm of the poet's lines; the fine, expressive eyes spoke more eloquently than words, and not an attitude was wanting to give dignity and impressiveness to the situation. Yet, withal, there was during those three acts a marked absence of magnetic power, and the performance, though of the highest order as showing the result of training and experience, was not equal to that of Lawrence Barrett in the same scenes. Barrett gave us a portrait of the great Cardinal which in make-up was more striking and picturesque than Booth's, and his acting was more sharply accented and brought into higher relief the varying elements of Richelieu's character. Especially was this noticeable in the first scene between the "Cardinal" and "De Mauprat," and again in his management of the two-handed sword, and also in the famous apostrophe to the pen, which was rendered with a certain amount of tameness last night partaking more of the art of the elocutionist than the genius of the actor.

But, in the fourth act, Mr. Booth condescended to give an idea of the tragic power which lies dormant in him, and his delivery of the famous lines which include the threat of excommunication, winding up with:

"Set but a foot within that holy ground
And on thy head—yea, though it wore a crown—
I'd launch the curse of Rome," was a revelation of genius. The accumulated wrath seemed to fill his entire frame, which dilated with passion, his form towered grandly, and as, with eyes blazing with fire and voice of tragic rage he poured forth his invective and his awful threat, there was a reality in his assumption that was convincing proof not only of his high artistic ability, but of the possession of the genius for which he is famed. The enthusiasm of the audience at this point was spontaneous and long-continued, ending in a double recall, and from that point to the end of the play, touched, it may be, by the warmth of his reception, Mr. Booth's rendition was marked by those magnetic touches which indicate the sympathy existing between the actor and his audience. The final scene was highly effective, and Mr. Booth, sated, as he no doubt is, with applause, not always of a discriminating kind, must be hard to please if he is not satisfied with the warmth of his reception and the applause which greeted eis performance in our little opera house last night.

Of the support, it may be said that it is fair. John T. Malone takes the part of "Adrien," and Charles Hanford that of "Baradas." The suggestion is offered that if these gentlemen exchanged parts it would result in a great improvement in their respective characters. The "Joseph," which affords a fine opportunity to a good character actor, was very poor. The "Francois" was promising, and the rest of the cast was of a shadowy and unsubstantial kind—always excepting the ladies, of course. Miss Kate Malony, who has appeared here before, was quite charming in the small part of "Marion de Lorme," and in appearance fully justifies the gallant Cardinal's eulogism. Miss Emma Vaders, in the rather arduous part of "Julie," was very satisfactory in the tender passages, but in the expression of strong emotion she lacks power, and her voice, which is of very pleasing quality, is deficient in resonance. The costumes are good, and the stage mounting is well attempted. Mr. Booth appears in Hamlet tonight.

THE POSTOFFICE.

Report of Its Big Business for February.

Postmaster Green furnishes the following report of the carrier business of the Los Angeles Postoffice for February: Carriers employed, 15; delivery trips daily, 2; collection trips daily, 2.

DELIVERED.

Registered letters delivered, 338 (against 283 in January); mail letters delivered, 116,730 (against 115,864 in January); mail postal cards delivered, 10,884 (against 10,454 in January); local letters delivered, 10,087 (against 9295 in January); local postal cards delivered, 5756 (against 5093 in January); newspapers, etc., 77,785 (against 76,804 in January); total number of pieces delivered, 221,580 (against 218,393 in January); letters returned to office, 275 (against 348 in January).

COLLECTED.

Letters, 84,272 (against 83,648 in January); postal cards, 10,932 (against 10,957 in January); newspapers, etc., 8904 (against 8840 in January); total number of pieces collected, 104,383 (against 103,793 in January). Total postage on local matter delivered through the boxes, general delivery and carriers, $709.43. Sales of stamps and envelopes, $5818.70. Box rent, $500. Total revenue for the month, $6318.70, which is at the rate of $75,824.40 a year—and still Vilas won't allow clerks enough to run an office so profitable to the Government.

The growth of the business of the office continues, as is shown by the increase over January—itself a big month.

W. P. GARDINER

Unanimously Chosen as the Lawyers' Candidate for Judge.

The members of the Los Angeles county bar called to select a candidate to succeed Judge Brunson, resigned, met at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, according to call, in Judge Brunson's courtroom. Fully one hundred lawyers were present and a remarkable harmony prevailed. The meeting was organized by making Judge Glassell chairman and J. W. Swanwick secretary. On motion it was determined to appoint a committee of five to prepare suitable resolutions relative to Judge Brunson's services and retirement. The committee appointed is composed of the following gentlemen: Messrs. Wade, Chapman, Van Dyke, Fitzgerald and Smith.

A motion proposed by Judge Fitzgerald to adjourn over till Saturday, for the sake of time to canvass the subject and prevail upon certain gentlemen of acknowledged merit to become candidates, was, after some discussion, defeated, it being thought best to proceed at once to select and recommend a candidate to the Governor before adjournment of the Legislature.

G. M. Holton nominated W. P. Gardiner, and he was, on motion, unanimously chosen. The committee on resolutions was instructed to report to the court on Monday morning next. The chairman and secretary were directed to communicate the result of the meeting to the Governor, and the meeting adjourned sine die.

AS TO ASH.

Hil Bail Raised and His Victim Released.

Justice Austin, upon learning the real facts in the case, yesterday, at once raised the bail of Jim Ash to $250. Application was made by the police to have Harry Chandler, who was so fearfully cut by Ash, put under bonds to appear as a witness, knowing—as every one knows—that if turned loose an attempt would be made to drive or buy him out of town, just as McSweeney, Ash's former victim, was quietly run off, so that when the case came up there was no prosecuting witness. As there was no affidavit that Chandler would not be on hand when wanted, Justice Austin let him go. It is a safe bet that he will never appear in court against Ash.

Ash's reputation is not confined to the McSweeney atrocity nor to his acts in Arizona. Several times within a year the police have been summoned to protect the woman with whom he lived from his brutality.

NEEDS A ROPE.

A Drunken Car-Driver's Wretched Attempt.

At about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a drunken street-car driver, name not given, entered the house of E. M. Loricke, superintendent of the Main-street and Agricultural Park Railroad, on Washington street, between Main and Carlisle, and attempted a felonious assault upon a lady there. Her screams brought a blacksmith to the rescue, who arrived in time to prevent serious consequences and collared the scoundrel. The latter escaped, however, before the blacksmith learned what was the matter, and there is no clue to his whereabouts.

Cohen's Cordiality.

John Jacobi went yesterday morning to the shop of L. B. Cohen, pawnbroker near the Club Theater, to give Cohen notice to quit, the landlord wishing to alter the property. Jacobi says that Cohen got a revolver and was going to shoot him, but he ran. Cohen was arrested for assault with a deadly weapon, and Justice Austin fixed his bail at $300. He comes up at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Azusa Jumping.

On the 10th of January ex-Sheriff George E. Gard and City Tax Collector D. W. Field bought 160 acres in the Azusa for $12,000. Yesterday they sold 80 acres of it for $16,000 to Mr. Washburn, of Pasadena. Mr. Field yesterday deeded fifteen acres to the San Bernardino and Los Angeles Railroad for right of way and depot grounds. There will be a fine town there before long.

A Brute.

John Hutton, the brute arrested by Capt. Tyler, Tuesday, in the very act of indecent exposure before the children of the Hoff-street School, East Los Angeles, was put under $200 bail by Justice Austin yesterday, and locked up in default thereof. He looks like a theological student, and came here from the East a fortnight ago.

FORGERY.

A WELL-KNOWN YOUNG MAN OF 24 THE CRIMINAL.

How Louis R. Neely Has Been in the Habit of Raising the Wind on Worthless Orders—Under $1000 Bail.

Louis R. Neely is widely but not favorably known here. His family is a respected one, but he carries himself with little regard for its good name. He has been in the habit of borrowing small sums from those who would trust him and of not repaying the loan. A favorite method of his has been to leave with the lender an order for some considerable amount alleged to be due him from some well-known firm for alleged work. It now turns out that many if not all of these documents were forgeries. Constable Ed Smith got on his trail, and has dug up a number of these forged orders. Neely was lodged in the city prison Tuesday night for attempting to get money from Ed Dunham on another similar document. He was arraigned before Justice Austin yesterday afternoon on a charge of forgery. He was willing to plead guilty, but could not then and there.

Charles Smith, doing business at No. 5 North Main street, was sworn. He testified that Neely came to him with the following order:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Nov. 27, 1886.
San Pedro Lumber Company, E. E. Henley, Superintendent:
Please pay to bearer seventeen dollars and fifty cents ($17.50), and charge to labor account at San Pedro.
J. A. SAMPSON, Superintendent.

Neely came to him a day or two later than the date of the order, and asked for some money, leaving the order as security. Gave him $1. Later the same day Neely came again, said his family was in great want, and he would like to get some more money. Witness let him have $3 more, making $4 in all. Never expected to see his money again, and gave it simply out of sympathy. Had known Neely from a boy. Didn't know who was manager of the San Pedro Lumber Company.

Constable Ed R. Smith sworn: Knew that E. E. Henley was not superintendent of the San Pedro Lumber Company. The superintendent is Merrick Reynolds. Don't know of any such persons as E. E. Henley and J. A. Sampson.

It then being after 5 o'clock, Justice Austin continued the case till 9 a.m. today, fixing bail at $1000. Neely said: "I don't want any bail, Judge. I want this matter to go ahead as fast as possible."

SMITH'S BUDGET.

Following is the collection of worthless orders—besides the one given above—made by Constable Ed R. Smith, who will get two of three more this morning:

The order on which Neely attempted to get money out of Ed Dunham was as follows:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Feb. 21, 1887.
E. E. Harlow, 110 East Pico Street: Please pay to bearer, Louis Neely, fifteen dollars ($15) and charge to my account.
H. A. FRENCH.

From B. F. Orr, of Orr & Sutch, Neely got $2.50 on the following order:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Oct. 14, 1886.
C. J. Eckers: Please pay to bearer $25 and charge to my account. E. E. HARWOOD.

From Dr. A. S. Shorb Neely got $2, on the following order:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Oct. 21, 1886.
J.E. Barnam, 320 East Pico Street: Please pay to bearer twenty-five dollars ($25) for work done on place. F. H. GRAY.

From N. A. Covarrubias Neely got $1 on the following order:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Aug. 10, 1886.
J. E. Brown: Please pay to bearer seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50) and charge to my account. CHARLES BROWN.

Neely had on him when arrested the following order:

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Feb. 10, 1887.
J. E. Terry, 110 East Pico Street: Please pay to bearer, Louis Neely, eleven dollars and fifty cents ($11.50) and charge to account of ranch work. J. A. WHITMORE, Superintendent Centinela Ranch.

Smallpox Bulletin.

There are at present, as far as known, 10 cases of smallpox in the city.

Six of these cases are in the pest hospital, two at 550 South Main street, and two in an isolated house about one mile north of the pest hospital.

Every house containing smallpox will hereafter be marked with a yellow flag.

A Heavy Robbery.

Mrs. Abbott, mother of Billy Abbott, who rooms near the Pico House, discovered late last night that she had been robbed of $850 in gold which she had been keeping in a closet. Billy had given her $300 to keep for him a few days before, and the rest was her own. Last night he came for his money, and upon looking for it she found the whole gone. She suspects a Chinese washee man.

A SOAP MOUNTAIN.

The "Herald's" Gunsight Mine Discounted.

The San Bernardino Gazette, evidently having in view the Los Angeles Herald's able Gunsight mine hoax of some months ago, perpetrates the following:

A few days ago a party of well-known prospectors started out on a prospecting tour over the great Mojave desert, and in the neighborhood of the Panamint range of mountains. This great and wonderful discovery is situated about a mile above the "Gunsight" mine, which no doubt is still fresh in the minds of many of our citizens, and over which such an excitement prevailed that many were of the opinion that it would turn out millions! But alas! it has been deserted and now lies undeveloped. The enormous wealth that was supposed to be hidden therein has never been exposed to view, and all is forgotten. But now for the "mountain of soap!" The parties interested in this wonderful discovery are all old-timers here and have a correct knowledge of the nature of this vast monument of soap and the various ingredients it contains. In appearance it resembles very much the best imported castile soap, and has all the color and grain of the genuine article. By the aid of a shovel or spade the substance can be cut out in blocks or chunks as desired. When taken out it has a soft, slippery feeling and would readily be taken for the pure article. The party camped at this mountain for several days and had ample time to thoroughly explore and test its wonderful cleansing properties. A large bar was taken out of the side of the mountain and taken to a spring near by, where it was thoroughly tested, and when applied to garments of any kind worked to perfection. The finders of this valuable deposit intend erecting a soap factory there, and no doubt will "soap" the whole country around, as there will probably be a large demand for this peculiar substance. The mountain being only a short distance above the "Gunsight" and on a gradual slope, and as the mine is located in a very rough and inaccessible locality, the boys will soon commence the building of a large flume to connect the "Gunsight" with the mountain of soap. When this is accomplished they will thoroughly soap the bottom of the flume and thus be able to slide down into the "Gunsight" mine and have an opportunity to thoroughly explore the same, which has laid undeveloped so long, and to bring to light the enormous treasure supposed to be hidden in this great mine. We withhold the names of the gentlemen connected with the soap find, until further developments are made. The mountain of soap is in the neighborhood of "Lard Valley," and this probably accounts for the strange phenomena. The explorers arrived home last Saturday and had a very rough trip. They lost two of their best horses and broke down several times on the way out. A specimen bar is now on exhibition at Carl Hammer's, in the Arctic Cellar, where everybody is invited to call and inspect for themselves.

A "GO."

The Hope-street Tabernacle an Assured Thing.

The Hope-street M. E. Church is now a certainty, after a good deal of hard work done and a good deal of opposition overcome by its founders. It has been incorporated as the Simpson M. E. Church, with the following Board of Directors: Dr. Walter Lindley, R. B. Russell, R. R. Brown, Judge Charles Silent, Dr. J. P. Widney, William B. Abernethy, J. Fairchilds, E. L. Parmelee, Judge R. M. Widney. A deed of the lot to the trustees has been taken and a large part of the purchase price raised. The building, which is to be the finest church edifice in town, will be commenced in the summer or fall. The Fort-street opposition to this move has ceased, and the Fort-street people are now giving solid help.

ALHAMBRA.

[Following is a correct reproduction of Mrs. Mayberry's verses, read at the Alhambra celebration, and which were mutilated in the columns of a contemporary.]

Quieres tierra bermosa? aqui lo tienes.

I sit 'neath the vines when day is done,
And watch the face of the setting sun,
As, reaching out with shadowy arms,
He clasps the hilltops, leaving a warm,
Purpling, roseate, softening glow,
Like a northern sun on fields of snow,
Or light that breaks o'er a dying brow,
As the loving heart grows still below
The chilling breast and pulseless hand,
While the soul drifts out to the Unknown Land

Lulled by soft, whispering airs,
That come slow stealing through the orange boughs,
And softly breathing from the rose's heart,
Emitting slumberous odors;
Over my soul a vision seemed to pass of far-off Spain,
And star-eyed lotus flowers caressed by winds
Blown gently over Andalusian hills,
Till pausing in their swift, aerial flight,
They breathe a tender benediction o'er
Those many-legoned and time-honored walls,
Lighted by suns whose beams reflecting back
From the' sierra's snow-crowned, silver heights,
Glowed with deep crimson on her hoary towers,
Prophetic of that sacred flood which stained
The marble whiteness of her fountains' sides—
Alhambra of Granada.

Lo! as I gaze above her mouldering walls
The warm-eyed queen of night sails slowly up,
And all alight with southland's languorous fire,
Unlike her pale-browed sister of the north,
Beams down with passionate pity in her glow,
Weaving enchantment o'er the ruined towers,
'Till out from tower, and turret, court and hall
Came gliding phantom shapes, whose dulcet tones
Once made sweet music in the olden time,
Mingled with Lindaraxa's falling waters.

I awaken with a start;
Around me lies a blissful, sylvan scene,
Fair as the many-pictured lands of Spain,
And palpitating with a kindlier heart
Toward her favored children.
The emerald, fertile plains, fair Flora's haunts,
Enriched by breathing life, whose happy homes,
Embosomed in her odorous orange groves,
Enwreathed with climbing clematis and rose
Made vocal by the lark and mock-bird's notes,
Speak with a universal, eloquent tongue,
That meets responsive echo from all hearts
Dwelling within her sunny, flower-gemmed vale—
Alhambra of California.

A rosy urchin, wearing Cupid's face,
Leaps lightly from a shining pepper tree;
Peeps at me with a moist and laughing eye,
His dimples all aglow with bounding health;
Twanging his bow-string with his arrow's point,
And keeping time with one small, dainty foot,
His voice rings out in glad, tumultuous song:

THE G. C. OF C.
[Air: "Old Oaken Bucket."]

You've heard the old story, no doubt, in your childhood,
Of the fly on the wheel grown so wondrously big
In his own estimation, that whirled round the coach-wheel,
He thought the whole world revolved round him instead.
The force of this story you'll quickly perceive, sir;
Nay, more: with the fly you will stoutly agree:
Convinced you're astride of that very same wheel, sir,
If you'll come and abide in the g. c. of C.

[Chorus: Sung by the congregation.]

Then bring me a bumper of generous measure,
Drawn fresh from the filter of Jupiter P.;
Fill up to the brim with the old god's ambrosia,
And drain with a cheer for the g. c. of C.

Now bring me my sure-footed, trusty Pegasus,
And braid up his tail with a ribbon of blue;
Then tuck up your skirts as you carefully mount him;
There's a trifle of mud—is that anything new
To a tenderfoot Easterner—fresh from those slush pools?
Would rival the depths of a Stygian sea:
Lay over and under our infantine moisture.
Jump on and we'll ride in the g. c. of C.

[Chorus, etc.]

Away with your overcoats, mufflers, protectors,
A truce to your cough-drops, quinine and herb tea;
To be sure you will need for a while some good snow-shoes
While hastily crossing o'er the N. C. B.
Hurrah! how we ride through the glorious elixir,
This health-giving breath from the hoary old sea,
All tempered and perfumed with riotous blossoms
That wanton and glow in the g. c. of C.

[Chorus, etc.]

There's Ruskin, God bless him! the dearest and truest,
Would like us all sunk in the bottomless sea;
I wish I could reach him, and clasp him, and hold him,
And draw him across to the g. c. of C.
One look at our mountains, our cloud forms and roses
Would cure the old darling of all his ennui;
To complete his full ecstacy, I would present him
Our glorified poppy of g. c. of C.

[Chorus, etc.]

A fig for your airs from the blessed Araby;
A song for your spice-laden breezes of Ind;
We've got it all here without crossing the ocean,
And a corner lot thrown in by "raising the wind."
From the old mother mountain right on to the ocean
We'll ride with a rein that is fearless and free;
Gee up, my Pegasus, we are out on a bender,
We can distance the world with our g. c. of C.

[Chorus.]

Then bring us a bumper of generous measure,
Drawn fresh from the filter of Jupiter P.;
Fill up to the brim with the old god's ambrosia,
Three cheers and a tiger for g. c. of C.!

EMILY GRAY MAYBERRY.

Alhambra, February 22d.

San Diego's Boom.

George W. Frink, president of the Los Angeles Land Bureau, has just returned to Los Angeles after a three weeks' trip into San Bernardino and San Diego counties. He reports the best of prospects, and all parties are on the qui vive for the new lines of railroad now connecting those counties with this city. His firm has a prosperous branch in San Diego. El Cajon Valley, he reports, is being connected by railroad with the city of San Diego, and lands are consequently being rapidly bought.

The Gallup Mines.

A gentleman in from Gallup gives THE TIMES an account of the strike there in the mines of the Black Diamond Mining Company, the Gallup Coal Company and the Bell Coal Company. The miners demanded that they be allowed to fix wages, time of work, etc. The company declined to submit, and closed down the mines. New men were got, and the mines resumed work.

C. C. C.

The stockholders, and persons desiring to become such, in the California Coöperative Colony, will meet this evening at 7 o'clock, in the Board of Trade Hall, to hear a report and decide upon a colony site.

It was stated in the Congregational Club at San Francisco that in that city, with a population of about 300,000, the attendance at the Protestant churches was about 32,000, and at the Catholic churches abont 18,000, making a total church attendance of about 50,000. Probably three-fourths of the population never attend church.

GENERAL NOTES.

Boston Herald: "Vassar repudiates the anarchist's bride, and desires it to be understood that it is no such college."

Food preparations for babies multiply, but in the old days they appeared to get along just as well without them.—[New York Mail and Express.

Not long since I overheard two Tennessee negroes who had met each other: "Howdy do, sir?" "Poorly, poorly; I'se got a mighty misery in my back. How's you making it?" "Me? Oh, I'se kicking, but not high; fluttering, but can't fly."

Gen. Boulanger was the son of a poor advocate of Nantes and a beautiful English woman, and in his boyhood was as vain and theatrical as now. He would often go without his lunch, in order to save money for the purchase of lemon-colored kid gloves.

Mr. W. S. Gilbert, before he achieved fame—long before the Mikado and Pinafore days—used always to send his plays to managers printed. If aspirants to literary honors only knew the loathing with which managers and editors ever look upon even the most neatly written manuscript, they would follow this most excellent example.

A negro in Alabama was brought up for stealing a pair of chickens, but declared solemnly that he "didn't steal dem ar fowls," declaring, on the other hand, that the complainant had beaten him brutally with a club. "But," said the judge, "you're twice as large and strong as he is; why didn't you defend yourself?" "Why, Judge, see hyar; I had a chicken in each hand, an' what's two raw chickens ag in a club?"

PICKINGS FROM PUCK.

Ex-Treasurer Spinner's signature has just celebrated its eighty-fifth birthday. Long life to it.

High hats at the theater are a nuisance, but they are mighty nice to go to sleep behind at church.

We understand that a book of war memories is shortly to appear from the pen of General Debility.

The Order of the Bath is good as far as it goes. Many members of the British peerage need it badly, but it doesn't quite fill the bill. We therefore suggest to the Queen, whose career we have watched and are watching with friendly interest, that she create a new order, and call it "The Order of Chloride of Lime."

Down-east Sports.

[Cleveland Plaindealer,]

A few days ago "Bill" Shipman, as genial and thorough a fresh-water sailor as ever stepped foot on a yacht, began the construction of an ice-boat. It is small, but neat and not gaudy, and when it was tried on Tuesday it carried him over the ice a trifle faster than he wanted to go. Yesterday the wind was lighter and the boat behaved more soberly. Several yachtsmen and canoeists have hit upon the idea of sailing upon skates. They have rigged three-cornered canoe sails upon light frames, and holding them in the proper manner the wind pushes them over the ice at locomotive speed. The sport is exciting in the extreme, and when the wind is stiff but few of the skaters dare to let their sails draw full.

Doubtful Probability Ably Defined.

[Butler Citizen.]

A Harrisburg newspaper correspondent thinks that "with the dominant party committed to the Cullom bill for railroad legislation, the prohibition question disposed of by the tedious process of a reference to the people and Cooper preparing to shut off all discussion of revenue bills by getting up another revenue commission to report two years hence, the chances of this session giving us many surprises in the shape of legislation on important subjects are what Solicitor General Jenks would call "a doubtful probability." His idea of a case of "doubtful probability" is "a blind negro on a cloudy night in a dark cellar with an extinguishing candle looking for a black cat that isn't there."

DR. M. HILTON WILLIAMS

Continues to treat all the various diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest, including the Eye, Ear and Heart, by his new and complete system of Medicated Inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the Stomach, Liver and Blood, etc. Probably there has never been any system of practice so popular a one that has so completely revolutionized the system of medical practice as the Aerian or Inhalation System, for head, throat or lung affections. The cures effected are simply marvelous, and can be substantiated by the very best citizens of Los Angeles. During the past three years we have endeavored to be conscientious with our patients, and if, upon examination, we find, in our judgment, the case to be of an incurable nature, we unhesitatingly inform the patient or friends. We believe this system to be justifiable and are ready to condemn any physician who would do otherwise.

Below we give a sample of the cures effected by us.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Sept. 24, 1886.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR SIR: I have been contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived from your treatment, remembering how glad I would have been could I have seen something of the kind from a person in the city to whom I could have referred, when I first came to Los Angeles from my home in New York State.

I had been suffering for several years with what various physicians in the East pronounced "chronic ulcerated laryngitis." I spent considerable time at the Clifton Sanitarium, and employed the best medical skill I could find, all without any permanent benefit, and, a last resort, our family physician recommended Los Angeles. For a time I improved, and then I began to go backward and all my former symptoms returned.

Through a medical friend I was induced to try your treatment, which I did August 29, 1884. I become very much discouraged at times, but persevered, as I felt almost desperate and knew of nothing else to turn to. My throat trouble, being aggravated by a serious stomach difficulty, made it very obstinate to deal with, but at last, after persevering for a time with the use of your remedies, I consider I am permanently cured. If this will be of any value to you, you are at perfect liberty to use it; also to refer any one to my mother, my husband or myself. Very truly yours, MRS. J. D. WILEY, 821 Olive street, Los Angeles, Cal.

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 17, 1886.

To the many testimonials won by Dr. Williams it gives me pleasure to add my own to the list so highly in his favor. For nearly two years I had been suffering from throat and lung trouble, brought on by catarrh. Had tried many remedies in the meantime, but found only temporary relief. After two months' treatment, prescribed by Dr. Williams, my cough left me altogether and I now have no pain in my throat or lungs as formerly. I cannot speak too highly of the benefits I have received and shall ever be grateful to one who is worthy of the highest recommendation.

Miss MINNIE H. HARRIS, Riverside, Cal.

NEWHALL (Cal.), Sept. 22, 1886.

Dr. Williams—DEAR SIR: I write to tell you how much I thank you for what you have done me. My catarrh and deafness, which have been a burden to me for so long a time, are entirely cured, and my general health so much improved that I feel like a different person. Thanking you again for your many deeds of kindness, I am respectfully yours,

Miss ANNIE RICHARDS.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Dec. 4, 1886.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR SIR: I desire to let every man, woman and child know that you were instrumental in saving my life from that foul destroyer, consumption. I came to Los Angeles from Quincy, Ill., on the 10th of June, 1886. The very next day I began treatment. I was at that time afflicted with a large cavity in the upper lobe of the right lung, from which I had suffered over seven years, but, thank God, you cured me in 16 weeks' time, and now I am as well and strong as ever. Tell it to all. Yours truly, JAMES JESSOP, Quincy, Ill.

P. S.—I go home tomorrow.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM THE COUNTRY ROUNDABOUT.

Alhambra and Its Steady Growth—Interesting Budget from Colton—Exchange Notes from Pasadena and San Diego.

Alhambra.

A BAKERY—DEVELOPMENT—SUDDEN DEATH.

ALHAMBRA, March 1.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Negotiations are in progress with a noted confectioner for the establishment of a bakery and restaurant. That this will be a successful enterprise is a foregone conclusion, the rapid influx of visitors making it a necessity.

C. T. Adams has procured an elegant, new burglar and fire-proof safe, of the Mosler Safe and Lock Company make, not only for his own accommodation, but for the other business men of the town. Stockholders in the street railway and hotel will take advantage of this safe deposit for their valuable collaterals.

The large heaps of dirt from excavations of the street railway near the north end of Garfield avenue should be removed before a serious accident ensues, followed by a suit for damages.

Our schoolhouse is the personification of elegance, but the grounds surrounding it resemble very much the town lot the day after its occupation by the circus. It is to be hoped that our people will not wait until the rainy season is over before exercising their proverbial good taste in the matter.

Alhambra has never in her history received such a sharp and stunning shock as that occasioned by the sudden death of John C. Winsor, by pneumonia, early Sunday morning. Mr. Winsor was a man of quiet and unostentatious ways, and one who was thoroughliked by men in every grade of life who enjoyed his acquaintance. He was a devoted Christian and a constant attendant at the Methodist Church. He was square, upright and honorable in every transaction, and no one ever had dealings with him without being impressed with the sincerity, nobility and genuine manliness of his life. Nearly the entire community attended his funeral, which took place Monday afternoon from the Methodist Church. The display of pure white flowers was fitting the occasion. There is deep and widespread sympathy with the two young children who are left orphans, his wife having died four years ago.

YUSUF.

Colton.

STILL BOOMING—NOTES OF PROGRESS.

COLTON, March 2.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Col. R. W. Button has obtained from the Southern Pacific Company leave to run his motor road over their right of way from this point to Mound City, where the motor road will branch off for Lugonia and Old San Bernardino, running as far as Crofton. This will make the upper end of the valley more than ever tributary to Colton, and is only one of the many things conspiring to make this place the great commercial center of San Bernardino county.

Colton is now filled with tourists and health-seekers, and the hotels and boarding-houses are doing a rushing business.

The Goldkoffer ranch, situated one mile north of Colton, has been sold to Henry Timken, a wealthy St. Louis gentleman, at $125 per acre. The tract contains 169 acres, and will be divided into small villa lots and placed on the market.

Rev. Mr. Roe, from Oshkosh, Wis., is dying here from heart disease and consumption. He is a brother of the famous novelist, E. P. Roe.

Colton is going to have a citrus fair of her own. The 12th of the present month is the date determined upon, and the Hust building, on Front street, the place. At this time, when other portions of the State are lamenting over frozen oranges, scale, and the thousand natural shocks that the citrus fruit is heir to, Colton comes up smilingly with an abundant and perfectly healthy yield of fruits and flowers that will astonish many of our more boastful neighbors, and demonstrate to the world the fact that Colton is in the midst of one of the finest fruit regions in California. Excursions will run from Los Angeles, San Diego, Riverside and San Bernardino. The whole race of mankind is invited to be present, and to see "oranges as is oranges."

Numerous Springers have been captured by the officers, but the right one is not forthcoming. There is at present no clue as to the whereabouts of the much-sought for murderer, and that little necktie sociable of which people have been talking will have to be postponed indefinitely.

Mrs. M. L. Ferguson entertained a party of her young friends at her handsome new real-estate office last evening. Dancing was the principal feature of the entertainment, and the young people now swear by Mrs. Ferguson.

San Diego.

[San Diego Union, March 1.]

A German newspaper, an 8-page weekly, to be called the California Deutsche Zeitung, will be started in San Diego, about the middle of March, by C. F. Kamman and Emil Kleim.

The Santa Rosa, in her last passage down, covered the distance between San Pedro and San Diego in the remarkably quick time of five hours and thirty minutes. This beats by considerable all of her previous records. The running time between San Francisco and San Diego on her last trip was 34 hours and 52 minutes, which is not as good as some of her former through runs by about three hours.

Rev. R. H. Staehli has succeeeded in gathering together twelve families, who will unite in forming a German Church. Steps will be immediately taken to secure church property. A. Schneider and Revs. H. I. Stern and R. H. Staehli have been elected a finance and building committee. A. Schneider will act as treasurer. Rev. Mr. Staehli has decided to remain and do all he can to build up a church and make it self-sustaining.

Articles of incorporation of the Real Estate Exchange of San Diego were filed yesterday with County Clerk Dodge. The purpose of the exchange is to buy, sell, rent, collect rents, care for and manage real estate, and to charge and collect commissions therefor, and also to protect its members, venders and purchasers in their rights and privileges, and to secure the honorable treatment of all parties concerned. The principal business of the said corporation will be transacted in this city, and the articles of agreement extend over a period of fifty years. A. C. Mouser, W. D. Woolwine, J. R. La Tourrette, F. R. Wetmore and C. E. Heath are the five directors. The amount of the capital stock is $10,000, divided into 1000 shares at $10 each.

The City Trustees yesterday fixed the following water rates for the year: Up to 10,000 gallons, 75 cents per 1000; 10,000 to 15,000 gallons, 60 cents per 1000; 15,000 to 30,000, 55 cents; 30,000 to 60,000, 50 cents; 60,000 to 120,000, 45 cents; 120,000 to 240,000, 40 cents; 240,000 to 600,000, 35 cents; 600,000 and upward, 30 cents.

Pasadena.

[Pasadena Star.]

Gen. W. C. Newbury, of Chicago, president of the famous Iroquois Club of that city, and a leading citizen, is at the Carleton.

R. B. Moorhead brought to our office last week a trout caught below the Pasadena water-works in the Arroyo, measuring 17 inches. 'Twas a huge fellow and evidently a long way from home.

C. S. Britton, one of the heavy iron dealers of Cleveland, is again at the Carleton, after an absence of two weeks. He expresses great satisfaction in getting back to Pasadena.

The additional retorts ordered for the Pasadena gas works have arrived, and very soon the quantity of gas will be increased.

Work has begun on the east end of the Colorado-street section of the Yokum railroad. That enterprise is walking along with rapid strides.

Dr. Janes has begun the erection of his residence on Colorado street, adjoining C. A. Gardner's. It will be an ornament to that locality of fine houses.

Mr. Switzer tells us that his trail is now in good order for tourists. In the course of two weeks he will resume his usual trips, but until then parties desiring to go with their own conveyance will find the trail in excellent shape.

The recent gathering at the Episcopal rectory was a pronounced successful affair, both in point of entertainment and numbers. Under the present rector, Rev. Browne, the church has been vastly strengthened, and the people of his flock take various ways of showing their appreciation of his service.

W. A. Kimball and T. D. Barnum have begun the erection of a $10,000 residence each, on the Dr. Congar home tract, Colorado street, between the Doctor's home and Orange grove. The sites are very choice, and the style of houses to be put up will make the improvement of that corner a very notable one. Myrtle street will be run north and southeast of Mr. Kimball's place.

Orange Profit.

[Covina Exponent.]

We visited the orange orchard of J. Dougherty this week and gleaned the following facts concerning the profits of orange culture in this favored valley:

Mr. Dougherty has about 13 acres set to oranges. Three acres of these trees are over nine years old, and from this three-acre grove he will pick 1000 boxes, which are sold at $1.15 per box. At that price per box the three acres foot up to $1150 for the crop, and calculating an investment to pay 10 per cent. interest, the three-acre nine-year-old grove is worth $11,500, or $3833⅓ per acre. From the other 10 acres Mr. Dougherty will pick 500 boxes, worth $575. This ten-acre grove is just commencing to bear this season, and will probably gain at the rate of $50 per acre until it comes into full bearing. With the above figures, who can be so ignorant as not to be able to answer the question, "Will oranges pay?"

New Newspaper Venture.

[San Bernardino Times.]

We learn that Lugonia is to have a paper, probably under the management of George F. Weeks, who formerly lived here, but who for some years has been on the editorial force of the San Francisco Chronicle. Mr. Weeks is an old newspaper man, an able writer, and, if he takes charge of it, Lugonia will have a good paper.

MEDICAL INHALATION COMBINED WITH CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDIES.

Our treatment of the diseases of the respiratory passages consists in the employment of Medical Inhalation, for its direct effects on the diseased organs; and, at the same time, adopting such hygienic measures, and administering such medicines by the stomach as will most effectually purify the blood, give tone to the nervous system, and build up and strengthen the general constitution. In other words, we employ combined local and general treatment.

What is Medical Inhalation Before stating briefly what Medical Inhalation is, we propose, in as few words as possible, to state clearly what it is not.

Medical Inhalation is not a cure-all, a nostrum, or a panacea. It is not a Specific Remedy for any disease. It is not a quack medicine, advertised to cure any or all the ills that flesh is heir to, and intended to fill the pockets of its proprietors. It is not a talisman, whose possession insures health to its possessor without the intervention of either sense or judgment. Medical Inhalation is none of these things.

Medical Inhalation is simply and solely a method of taking medicines by inhaling or breathing them into the lungs, instead of swallowing them into the stomach. By Inhalation, the proper medicines are applied directly to the seat of the disease, in the nose, throat or lungs; and it is clear to every reasoning person how peculiarly applicable Inhalation is in the disorders of the organs named. If you have scalded or burned the surface of the body, or wounded any limb or member, you do not swallow the remedy intended to heal the disorganized tissue. On the contrary, you apply it directly to the seat of the wound or injury. Why, then, when suffering from catarrh of the nasal passages or throat, or afflicted with ulceration of the lungs, should you rely on medicines taken into the stomach?

Medical Inhalation not only applies the proper healing remedies to the seat of the disease, but it applies the remedy in the gaseous or vaporous form, in which form, as is well known, medicines act most powerfully. How much greater, for example, is the effect of a drachm of chloroform, when inhaled or breathed, than many times the quantity when swallowed into the stomach. The same is true of chlorine, of iodine, and of many other substances. By inhalation the medicine is not poured into the stomach, and thence sent wandering through the system in search of a malady, which may be mainly or entirely a local one; but by this method the proper remedy is applied directly to the diseased organ. Who, after studying the anatomy of the lungs, can doubt that in inflammation and ulceration of the air-tubes and air-cells, the direct application of the healing medicine by inhalation to the diseased parts, is the correct and rational method of treatment? Who, on the other hand, can be so irrational as to believe that the proper and direct way to reach the diseased surfaces of the air-passages, in this case, is by the way of the stomach? Physiology teaches us that the membrane, or skin, lining the air-passages of the nose, throat and lungs, is only a slightly modified form of the same structure as that which covers the external surface of the body. Why, then, should local treatment be proper and necessary for inflammations, congestions and ulcerations of the one and not be equally so in the case of the other?

Our experience and success in treating diseases of the nose, throat and lungs, demonstrates, beyond all question, that the true scientific treatment of these diseases is that treatment which combines the local effects of medical inhalation with the constitutional effects of systemic remedies, given in the usual way by the stomach. One or both methods must be adopted as the circumstances demand, and such remedies must be employed as the experience and judgment of the physician have proved to be proper in each particular case.

MEDICAL ADVOCATES OF INHALATION.

Physicians who were educated twenty years ago or more, and who have not kept up with the times in the advance in medical science, have very little idea of the great importance all leading medical writers now give to Medical Inhalation in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. To such an extent is this true that no patient should intrust his case to any physician who is not well prepared and thoroughly equipped with everything necessary for the administering of the proper remedies by the method of Inhalation.

The numerous cures effected by Inhalation in cases seemingly past all help, and the uniform success attending its use in diseases of the respiratory organs, renders it obligatory on every honest physician to at once apply himself to gain a practical knowledge of the Inhalation, or, if that is not possible, he is at least bound to decline to treat such cases.

Among the most eminent physicians of the age who are fully awakened to the value of Medical Inhalation in these diseases are the following: The celebrated Dr. Burdon-Sanderson; Dr. La Roche, of the Paris Academy of Medicine; Dr. Frederick Langhaus, of Berlin; Drs. Klebs and Tommasi-Crudeli; Sir Archibald Dickson, of Edinburgh, Scotland; Dr. Eichler, Dr. Cameron, Dr. Gurdon Buck, Prof. Albert Lebert, the celebrated Dr. Hughlings Jackson, the venerable Dr. Robert Dickinson, Prof. Thierfelder, Spencer Wells, Dr. Hilton Flagge, Dr. G. P. Wood, Drs. Fritsch and Hitzig, Dr. Fothergill, Dr. Richard Thompson, Dr. R. S. Carpenter, Drs. Arnotic, Ball, Fuller, Lancereaux, Krauss, Huguenie, Heller, Orth, Corrigan, Fenwick and many others. With scarcely a single exception every medical authority of eminence recognizes the wonderful potency of this new method, and the coming generation of physicians are certain to be thoroughly educated therein. At present it is only a few physicians here and there who have made "Diseases of Respiration" a life study that are fitted in any way to employ the wonderful resources of Medical Inhalation in the cure of these diseases.

THE CURABILITY OF CONSUMPTION.

For five years the celebrated Dr. I. H. Bennet was pathologist to the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, and in his great work on "Consumption" he makes the following statement: "During this period I made upwards of 2000 post-mortem examinations of persons dying from various diseases, and I was constantly meeting with cases in which I found cavities in the lungs from consumption, which had evidently healed up or cicatrized years before the death of the subject. Nature did not seem to have been successful in restoring the wasted lung-substance, but the cavities were dried up, the progress of the disease arrested, and the subject lived for years, with diminished lung power it is true, but otherwise in good health."

W. P. Gardiner for Superior Judge.

Consequent upon the retirement of Judge Brunson from the judicial bench, it becomes the duty of the Governor to appoint his successor to preside in the Superior Court of this county. This is the third appointment of the kind which it has fallen to Gov. Bartlett's lot to fill in Southern California since his entrance into office. On the last occasion the Governor saw fit to disregard, in part, the recommendation of the Los Angeles bar; and now upon this fresh vacancy occurring, the bar, at its meeting yesterday, once more indorsed the name of W. P. Gardiner, and recommended him as a fit successor to the honors of the Superior Judgeship.

Mr. Gardiner has resided in this community for the past ten years, practicing law. He has gained the reputation of possessing exceptional ability in his difficult profession, and his firmness of character, combined with an unblemished record as a man of integrity and member of society, make the selection and recommendation of his name by the bar appear to have a special and appropriate fitness. Mr. Gardiner is a Democrat, a qualification which, while it is necessary to his appointment, is the only thing we know against him. As a matter of fact, politics should not be allowed to interfere in the appointment of men to judicial office. The executive being convinced that the candidate has the qualifications for the proper discharge of the important duties devolving upon him, should not put him aside to make room for any one of less ability and standing in the profession. The appointment of Mr. Gardiner will be a good one.

Our United States Building.

Milwaukee is to have a United States public building to cost $1,200,000; or, at least, the Committee of the House of Representatives on Public Buildings and Grounds has recommended the construction of a building in Milwaukee to cost that much. The United States building for Los Angeles is to cost, if the present appropriation is adhered to, just $150,000, or one-eighth of the sum proposed for Milwaukee! Eight buildings, such as the one suggested for Los Angeles, could be put up in Milwaukee for the money that is to be voted to her, and yet Milwaukee has heretofore received many favors at the hands of the General Government, while Los Angeles has received next to none. This all seems like unfair discrimination. True, Milwaukee is at present a larger city than Los Angeles, but how long this disparity in population will continue is a matter of considerable uncertainty. At the present rate of growth of Los Angeles, she will soon catch up with her Wisconsin sister, and this should be taken into account in preparing for the future in the way of erecting public buildings. Such discrimination between cities can have no great tendency to inspire people with a belief in the justice of this great Government.

It is not asserted that the appropriation of over a million dollars for a public building in Milwaukee is too much; we do not believe it is; but it is maintained, and earnestly, too, that $150,000 is entirely too small a sum for Los Angeles. A million would come nearer the mark. A million dollars expended in a public building here now would obviate the necessity of tearing down and building over again in a few years, and at the same time remove all danger of inconvenience to United States functionaries from too close quarters.

Navigating Northern Waters.

A very small craft has started on a perilous voyage to the far north—the little schooner Adeline, Capt. Callender, which sailed from San Francisco on Monday on a hunting and fishing trip to Alaskan waters. She is said to be a fine sea boat, of 22 tons burthen, 48 feet long, 16 feet beam, depth 4½ feet. The captain is a colored man, the first one to leave the port of San Francisco in command of a vessel. She will carry a crew of eight all told, including hunters and boat steerers, and will cruise in the North Pacific, in the Arctic and Bering Sea, if allowed.

It looks "scary" to a landsman to see such a small craft venture into the rough seas of the north; yet it is not uncommon to encounter these pigmy "ships" in those waters. The writer recalls to mind one little vessel, a "wind-jammer," whose skipper, a fearless son of Norway, used to boast of his marine ventures along the shallow shores of Bering Sea, about the mouths of the river Yukon, where the silt poured out by that great stream for centuries has filled up the sea to such an extent that a vessel of any size will ground ten miles off shore. Petersen used to boast that he could go anywhere in those waters, "for," he would say, "if she scrapes on the bottom, I just spit over the side, and she is all right!"

The native hunters go long voyages in their skin boats, sometimes venturing considerable distances from shore. The bidarka, a frail-looking craft, made of the skin of the sea lion, stretched upon a slender wooden frame, and resembling the Esquimaux kyak in its graceful contour and pointed ends, is the hunting-boat in universal use among the native sea-otter hunters. It is only about twenty-four inches wide, eighteen or twenty feet long, and can easily be carried by two men, when making portages or "hauling her out" on the shore to dry. The bidarra is the native freight-boat in general use. It, too, is made of skin, and will carry three or four tons of sealskins and Aleuts, and ride in safety a considerable sea. This craft is slow but sure, but for real rough work the civilized whaleboat has to be called into requisition by even the native sailors. On the river Yukon batteaus are used, propelled by oars in the hands of "sure-enough" Indians, or convoyed by ridiculous and coughing little steamboats of a capacity just about suited to the demands of the raging Santa Ana. In these primitive craft voyages of two thousand miles are made, requiring months to accomplish. The fur-traders and their Indian contingents commonly start down the river from the trading posts on its upper waters—Fort Yukon, Fort Reliance, etc.—in the early days of May or June, as soon as the ice breaks, and, after transacting the year's business at the central depot for the district, Fort St. Michael, on Norton's Sound—delivering the winter's catch of furs and laying in their annual supplies of provisions, arms, ammunition and trading goods—they start back on their long voyage, which consumes the balance of the summer. It is a strange and primitive life, that which these hardy frontiersmen lead along the banks of the great river of the North, whose headwaters are in British territory, and which bends northward at one point so far that its course lies within the Arctic Circle and penetrates a zone as frigid as that of the Frozen Sea itself.

Bon voyage to the little Adeline!

IT is reported that Government surveyors have appeared at Newport Landing for the purpose of making a survey of the harbor, the sum of $5000 having been appropriated by Congress, through the efforts of Representative Markham, for that object. This is another move of importance to Los Angeles county. There is an extensive and fertile territory contiguous and naturally tributary to Newport Harbor, and, with adequate improvements made there by the Engineer Corps of the Army, it can be converted into a reliable shipping point; which will go far toward developing one of the very best sections of Los Angeles county and the State of California. The famous San Joaquin Rancho—almost an empire in itself, judged by some European standards of territorial area for principalities—is adjacent, and it alone will some day, and that not far off, furnish business enough to more than justify the Government in making a liberal annual expenditure at that point for harbor improvements.

Canada To Retaliate.

OTTAWA (Ont.), March 2.—The Minster of Customs is preparing a bill which it has been stated will be presented to Parliament in case the United States Congress should pass the retaliation measures. The bill will largely dincrease the uties on American imports.

PASSED AWAY.

Chief Justice Morrison No More.

His Career Brought to a Close by a Stroke of Paralysis.

Sketch of the Dead Jurist's Life and Public Services.

The Contest for the Vacant Justiceship Already Begun—Judge Sullivan, of San Francisco, Ahead in the Race—Byron Waters A Possibility.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] Chief Justice Morrison, of the State Supreme Court, died this morning. The cause of his death was a stroke of paralysis, which occurred several years ago. He was taken ill again on February 23d last, and had not been able to leave his room since. The deceased was 60 years old, and leaves a family. The Supreme Court and civil departments of the Superior Courts adjourned today in respect to the memory of the late Chief Justice.

THE DEAD JUDGE.

Marks of Respect—Sketch of His Career—His Probable Successor.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—[Special.] The news of Chief Justice Morrison's death was communicated to the Supreme Court this morning while the Justices were sitting in bank. The following order was immediately made: "The death of Hon Robert F. Morrison, Chief Justice of this court, this day, having been announced to the court, now on motion of Hon. W. W. Cope, and upon his suggestion that appropriate proceedings are to be taken, and a memorial prepared, to be presented to the court by members of the bar: It is ordered that this court now adjourn until next Monday morning, as a token of respect to the memory of our departed Chief Justice, at which time appropriate action will be taken."

CAREER OF THE DECEASED JUDGE.

The Superior Courts also adjourned. At the Bar Association the death of the Chief Justice was the principal topic of conversation. The deceased was 60 years old and a native of Illinois. When the Mexican war broke out he enlisted in an Illinois regiment, which had been raised and commanded by his elder brother, Col. Don Morrison. He came to California in 1852, and for a time conducted a general auction business in this city, in partnership with George Pen Johnson, who after and for many years was one of the proprietors of the Examiner newspaper. In 1853 Mr. Morrison went to Sacramento, where he studied law. Three years later he returned to San Francisco and entered the law office of James Doyle, Barber & Boyd, as an assistant. In 1858 he went back to Sacramento and practiced law on his own account. After his defeat, in 1859, by the Know-Nothing party for the position of State Senator, he again came back to San Francisco, where he has ever since lived. In 1863 he entered into a law partnership with James T. Boyd, the firm being Boyd & Morrison. When this partnership was dissolved he formed a new one with Delos Lake, which continued until Mr. Morrison was elected to the bench of the Fourth District Court. He served the full term of six years and was reëlected. He served four years of the second term, when he was elected Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State for the full term of twelve years. His term had four years still to run, His successor, who will be appointed by Gov. Bartlett, will hold until the Presidential election next year, when the people will choose for the then unexpired term of two years and six weeks.

The deceased leaves a widow and one brother, Col. Don Morrison, of St. Louis. Hon. William R. Morrison, Congressman from Illinois and the famous free trade leader, is a cousin. The funeral will be private and will be held from St. Mary's Cathedral on Friday next.

SPECULATION AS TO HIS SUCCESSOR.

A canvass made today by your correspondent among the most prominent members of the bar of this city shows that the Governor will have a difficult measure to fill in the appointment of a successor to the late Chief Justice; not because of any scarcity of fitting material, but rather because of too great a quantity. Judge W. T. Wallace, Joseph Hoge, ex-Supreme Justice McKee, S. M. Wilson, Niles Searles, of Nevada, and Judge Garber, are all spoken of. Several of those mentioned would probably not accept the position, their law practice being worth a great deal more to them than the emoluments from the Chief Justiceship. Superior Judge Jeremiah F. Sullivan, of whom mention has been made in a previous dispatch, has many friends actively working for him, nor has their work commenced only today, for it is known that they have been quietly at work since it has been certain that Mr. Morrison could not recover. All those who seek elevation to the Supreme bench will find that they have a difficult antagonist in Judge Sullivan. The influences at work in his behalf are recognized as powerful ones. Byron Waters, who would, it is believed, accept the position if tendered him, and Justice McKinstry, of the Supreme Court, are also mentioned as probable candidates. W. D. English, Foote and Judge Terry are believed to favor McKee or Sullivan.

LABOR TROUBLES.

Strike of Brakemen on an Ohio Railway.

YOUNGSTOWN (O.), March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] All the freight brakemen on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Railroad, of the yard and road crews, struck this morning, and freight traffic on the line is nearly suspended. The employés had a meeting last evening, and were informed that Superintendent O'Brien had given instructions to enforce the order taking a third brakeman off from each crew, and, acting on this information, the men decided to quit work. They assert that when the strike was settled last fall it was agreed that each train should have three brakemen.

A Light Sentence.

CLEVELAND (O.), March 2.—At Akron, O., today, Henry Heppert, the son of a wealthy business man, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary at hard labor, for betraying under promise of marriage a schoolgirl 14 years old.

FORTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

Second Session.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] In the Senate today, on motion of Mr. Crisp of Georgia, the rules were suspended and the Senate amendments to the House joint resolution for investigation of the accounts of the Pacific railroads were non-concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Voorhees of Washington Territory, the Senate amendments were concurred in to the bill annexing a portion of Idaho to Washington Territory.

Among the papers presented by the presiding officer was a communication from the Secretary of War, with copies of all dispatches from Gen. Miles referring to the surrender of Geronimo and of the instructions and correspondence therein called for by the recent resolution. It was ordered printed.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the Naval Appropriation Bill. Under the head of "Increase of the Navy," the committee recommends striking out the House proposition for two swift double-bottomed, steel cruisers, and for four gunboats, to cost, exclusive of armament, not more than $950,000, and the substitution of two new sections providing for six protected steel cruisers, with a speed of not less than twenty knots, to cost, exclusive of armament, not more than $9,000,000, and appropriating that amount; also appropriating for armament of such vessels $2,880,000; also appropriating $6,000,000 for heavily-armored vessels or floating batteries or rams for coast and harbor defenses; also appropriating $720,000 for light-draught gunboats; also an appropriation of $600,000 for torpedo boats and $40,000 for torpedoes and $185,000 for the armament of these vessels.

Mr. Plumb moved to strike out the item of $6,000,000 for heavily-armed vessels or batteries or rams for coast defense.

Mr. Hale opposed the striking out of the item.

Mr. Dawes said he had just received a telegram from New York, signed Ambrose Snow, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Coast Defenses and President of the Board of Trade and Transportation; that the telegram was, in a word, that "the whole commercial community is anxiously hoping that some agreement providing adequate and immediate coast defenses will be had, and if it is not, public opinion will compel an extra session, which business men would dread. I send duplicates hereof to your fellow conferrees"

Mr. Dawes said that if Congress adjourned without this provision, as it was intimated in the telegram which he had read, public opinion was going to force an extra session of Congress to make this adequate proposition. The fault did not lie at the door of the Senate or the Senate conferrees.

Pending further discussion the Senate went into secret session and soon took a recess.

In the evening session the consideration of the Naval Appropriation Bill was resumed, the question being on Mr. Plumb's amendment to strike out the item of $6,000,000 for heavily armored vessels used for coast and harbor defenses.

The amendment was rejected without division.

The amendment recommended by the committee was then adopted without division. It strikes out the House provision for two and four-gun boats, all to cost, exclusive of armament, not more than $950,000, and inserts in lieu thereof a section providing for the construction by contract of six protected steel cruisers, with suitable armament and a speed of not less than 20 knots, the cost of all not to exceed $9,000,000. Additional appropriations are made for machinery and armament. One of the vessels is to be built on the Pacific Coast and two on or near the coast of the Gulf of Mexico. For every quarter of a knot of speed over 20 knots the contractor is to receive $50,000, and for every quarter of a knot under 20 knots $50,000 will be deducted from the contract price. The appropriations are to be available during the five years next ensuing. In the matter of amendment reported by the Committee on Appropriations and agreed to by the Senate, was the following: "For the purchase by the Secretary of the Navy, if he shall deem the purchase advisable, the Destroyer, a screw steam vessel of iron, designed and built by Capt. John Ericson, $112,000."

Mr. Aldrich offered an amendment appropriating $250,000 for the purchase of the Stiletto, to be used as a torpedo boat for experimental purposes. Agreed to.

The bill and amendments were then reported to the Senate, the former proceedings being supposed to have been in committee of the whole.

Mr. Edmunds called for the yeas and nays on the amendment for six cruisers.

Mr. Plumb moved to amend the amendment by making the last paragraph read: "That the material used in all naval structures provided for in this act and the armament for the same shall be in so far as practicable of American production, and shallbe furnished and manufactured in the United States." Agreed to.

House.—The House resumed consideration of the conference report on the Fisheries Retaliatory Bill and after some discussion agreed—yeas 149, nays 134—to recede from the amendments to the Senate Retaliatory Bill.

The House laid upon the table the motion to reconsider the vote by which the House receded from its amendments to the Senate Retaliatory Bill. This passes the bill in the shape in which it passed the Senate.

The House agreed to the conference report on the joint resolution (now a bill) for the investigation of the accounts of the Pacific railroads.

Mr. Belmont of New York presented the conference report on the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation Bill.

The report was agreed to.

At the evening session Mr. Hatch of Missouri presented the conference report on the Agricultural Appropriation Bill. There were two important amendments placed upon the bill as reported by the conference committee; one appropriating $50,000 to enable the Commissioner of Agriculture to continue to experiment in the manufacture of sugar from sorghum and sugarcane, and the other increasing from $100,000 to $500,000 the appropriation for carrying out the provisions of the act establishing the Bureau of Animal Industry.

There was much opposition to both of these amendments, but the conference report was agreed to—yeas 147, nays 78.

A vote was then taken on the committee's amendment, and it was decided in the affirmative—yeas 42, nays 9.

On motion of Mr. Mahone, the Senate bill for the erection of a national memorial bridge over the Potomac, from Washington to Arlington, was taken up and passed. It appropriates $500,000 for the construction of the bridge, which is to be erected in honor of Lincoln and Grant. The vote was yeas 30, nays 18.

By Telegraph to The Times.

MOBILE (Ala.), March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] News of the burning of the steamer Gardiner is coming in slowly. None was received till this afternoon. The fire was discovered by Capt. Stone. A negro deckhand threw a bucket of water on the burning bale, and in throwing another bucketful his clothes caught fire. Panic, stricken, he ran from place to place, setting fire to the cotton bales, and in a few moments the boat was in flames all over. She was in midstream and in motion. The pilots were driven from the wheel and the crew and passengers jumped overboard. Those lost were nearly all drowned. It is not thought that more than one or two were burned. Capt. Stone saved himself by swimming ashore. The steamer Tally was behind the Gardiner, waiting to pass. As soon as the the Tally lowered her boats, and her crew threw over bales, seed sacks and planks to help the people who were jumping from the Gardiner. The heat was so intense that the Tally did not dare to go near the boat, but her boats picked up a number of people. Had it not been for the presence of the Tally, but few would have been saved. When the fire broke out the Gardiner was ordered to be run ashore. She backed, and bells were rang for going ahead, but the engineers were driven from their post by the flames, and the boat drifted toward the woods on the opposite side from the place where there was a practical landing. Pilot W. H. Wilson remained in the pilot house until he found that his signals were not obeyed and that the flames were licking the sides of the pilot-house, when he fled for his life. The report of the loss of life is confirmed. A cabin-boy of the Tally named Barber (colored) performed in saving five lives, which he did by swimming ashore with those in the water. The screams of those on the boat were heart-rending. Mrs. W. T. Rembert threw one child into the water, her husband taking the other two. Then she jumped in. All but her husband were lost. Mrs. Julia Rembert was also on board, but was saved from drowning. She is at Demopolis, and is in a precarious condition. The boat was not insured and was valued at $12,000. The cotton was insured for $23,000.

AN EARTHQUAKE.

A Shock Disturbs the Rural Denizens of Long Island.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] An earthquake shock was felt on the south side of Long Island about 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. Windows on Fire Island rattled. The observatory was shaken. The vibrations lasted several seconds. Babylon and the villages west to Jamaica report having felt the shock.

FAR ROCKAWAY (L. I.), March 2.—About the middle of the afternoon a low, rumbling sound, followed by a distinct tremor of the earth, which shook many buildings, was noticed here, and at the time was supposed to be caused by the firing of heavy cannon at sea. It is now believed to have been a shock of earthquake.

BABYLON (L. I.), March 2.—A shock of earthquake was felt in this village between 4:15 and 4:20 this afternoon. Many buildings swayed slightly. It is reported that some timbers of the Presbyterian Church steeple were displaced. Few persons here, although many felt the shock, knew at the time that it was an earthquake. Since the fact became generally known alarm is expressed in anticipation of further shocks, raising the fears of some as to safety. The shock lasted a few seconds.

HUNTER'S POINT (L. I.), March 2.—It has been impossible to obtain any but very meager details of the earthquake shock felt at several points along the south coast of Long Island this afternoon. Fire Island, Babylon, Baldwin's and Far Rockaway are the only villages heard from so far.

WAR IN KANSAS.

Further Account of the Fight Between Citizens of Rival Towns.

DENVER (Colo.), March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] It appears that the killing at Coronado, Kan., on Monday, in the quarrel over the county seat, did not occur in Wallace county, as at first reported. A telegram from Wallace to the Associated Press this afternoon says: "On Sunday last a bloody affair took place at Coronado, Wichita county. It grew out of the county seat trouble existing there. On that day seven men, Charles Coulter, Bill Raynes, Frank Jenness, George Watkins, Emmett Dunang, A. N. Borey and —— Johnson, left Leota and went to Coronado, some of them to have fun and others to see it. Three of them were armed. They took beer with them, and after arriving there proceeded to drink with some of the Coronado boys. They soon quarreled, and Coulter and one Loomis drew their revolvers and began shooting. This was the signal for war to begin, and the Coronado men opened on the Leota crowd from windows and secluded places. Coulter, Raynes and Loomis fell, the first two dead and the last with his leg and arm broken. The Coronado fellows then turned on the other Leota men, who had got into their buggy and were fleeing for their lives. Winchesters were used freely, and three Leota men were shot out of the buggy. The horses were wounded and ran away to Leota, and only two of the men got there with them. The others were picked up and taken to town. Watkins died yesterday. Borey, Johnson and Loomis are expected to die. Both towns are surrounded with guards, and no one is allowed to enter who is not well known. Both are fully armed and provided with ammunition. The bodies of Coulter and Watkins were brought to Wallace last night and taken East for burial. Watkins was married, and his body was accompanied by his wife. They were from Illinois. Coulter's body was taken by his sister to Russell, Kan. Raynes's body was buried at Leota. The end is not yet."

HOWLING ANARCHISTS.

Frantic Demonstrations in Honor of Released Convicts.

NEW YORK, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] Large crowds of anarchists filled Clarendon Hall tonight and howled and hissed and derided and menaced when mention was made of Recorder Smythe, Col. Fellows, the press, and especially the reporters. Braunchweig and Scheck, two anarchists sentenced by Recorder Smythe to Blackwell's Island with the Anarchist Johann Most, had been released and the meeting was one of homage to them. The two ex-convicts made fiery speeches, which were enthusiastically applauded. They declared themselves more devoted to anarchy than before their imprisonment, and said they were ready to go to the gallows in the fight if necessary.

NATIONAL NOTES.

Indications that the Fortification Bill Will Fail.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] There have been a dozen fruitless attempts during the past twenty-four hours to get together the conference on fortifications appropropriations, but this bill which failed of passage at the last session, appears to be lost beyond redemption. Another effort will be made tomorrow to get the conferrees together, but it is confidently expected that the only result of the meeting will be to record a total disagreement between the two Houses.

Neither can the President set apart reservations for their occupancy.

SOUNDS LIKE SECESSION.

Newfoundland's Defiant Attitude Toward John Bull.

NEW YORK, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Halifax says: "The address of the Newfoundland Legislature to the imperial government has produced a sensation. If it is not a declaration of independence, it is the next thing to it. The Newfoundlanders tell the imperial government that they own their fisheries, and they do not purpose to pay the slightest heed to French or American interests or to brook any interference from the imperial government. The situation is so serious that both Premier Thornburn and Sir Ambrose Shea, leader of the opposition, have gone to London to represent the dangerous character of the prevailing feeling in Newfoundland. Meanwhile the press and people are universally discussing the benefits of annexation to the United States. Anything would be better than the present state of affairs, and if annexation were submitted to a popular vote it would be carried by a three-fourths majority."

THE MOTHER COUNTRY SAYS NO.

LONDON, March 2.—[By Cable.] The Colonial Secretary has sent a dispatch to the Governor of Newfoundland, informing him that the home government does not feel justified in disregarding the strong protests of France against restrictions at this late period which are calculated to inflict great loss upon French fishermen, and is, therefore, unable to allow the bill passed by the Newfoundland Legislature in relation to the fisheries to operate during this season. The Secretary says that the government thoroughly understands that French bounties are a grave disadvantage to British fishermen. Still, it is not shown that the British fisheries are unremunerative.

Out of the Race.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The Pacific Coast having been heard from, it may be assumed that there will be no more declarations out of the Suburban to announce. E. J. Baldwin has withdrawn two good candidates, Volante and Mollie McCarthy's Last, and J. B. Haggin has taken out Preciosa. These three animals have also been declared out of the Bay Ridge Handicap, in which Volante was assigned the top weight of 126 pounds.

Result of the Second Ballots in Germany.

The Opponents of the Septennate in the Lead.

Rumors of an Important Change in the French Cabinet.

Gen. Boulanger and the War Party Said to Be in the Ascendancy—Affairs in Zanzibar Becoming Critical—Coercion Talk in England.

By Telegraph to The Times.

BERLIN March 2.—[By Cable.] Second ballots for members of the Reichstag in the districts where candidates failed to receive majorities on the first election took place today. The contest in each district is between the two candidates who received the highest number of votes in the original polling-places. Returns have already been received from Lubeck and Waldenburg of the result of the balloting in these places. Both elect National Liberals.

The ballot in the first division of Berlin resulted in the election of Klotz (New German Liberal), who polled 9028 votes against 7794 for Zidlitz Neukch (Septennist). In the second division Vranpom (New German Liberal) defeats Wolff (Septennist); in the third Munkel (New German Liberal) had 11,260 votes and Christian (Socialist) 10,559; in the fourth Baumbach (New German Liberal) 42,816, Blumer (Septennist) 8031. The fourth and sixth divisions were carried in the first contest by the Socialists. Berlin thus returns deputies opposed to the Septennate.

RIOT AT LUBECK.

At Lubeck the Socialists engaged in a riot after the announcement of the result of the election there, in which their candidate was defeated. The military interfered and made many arrests. A number of those arrested have since been released.

THE LATEST RETURNS.

BERLIN, March 2.—The supplementary elections in 24 districts resulted in the return of 3 Septennists, 4 National Liberals, 10 New German Liberals, 2 Centerists, 4 Socialists and 1 Imperialist.

WAR TALK.

Rumor that Boulanger's War Party are in the Ascendancy.

BERLIN, Maich 2.—[By Cable.] It is rumored that a change is imminent in the French Cabinet. Boulanger's influence, it is said, has so increased, that members in favor of the peace policy will soon be driven to resign, Boulanger thus obtaining dominance in the Cabinet.

THOSE BADGERED PROVINCES.

The North German Gazette says: "The people of Alsace-Lorraine elected protesters to the Reichstag because they feared the French would retaliate in the event of a war between Germany and France if annexation candidates were returned."

NOTES FROM BERLIN.

BERLIN, March 2,—An imperial decree has been issued ordering for the First and Second corps of the Prussian army a special series of exercises preparatory to the maneuvers. The infantry divisions and cavalry brigades are to maneuver against a supposed enemy. The total number of infantry reserves called out for the annual drill is 107,000, and the artillery, pioneers and train reserves 14,000.

The Military Bill has again been submitted to the Bundsrath. No change is made in its provisions. The reports that the Government being sure of a majority in the Reichstag propose a perpetual military bill is unfounded.

A MUTINY SUPPRESSED.

VIENNA, March 2.—The Tagblatt states that the revolt of a portion of the troops of the garrison at Silistria, Bulgaria, has been suppressed.

THE CHANCES FOR PEACE OR WAR.

NEW YORK, March 2.—[By the Associated Press.] A London cable says that most of the foreign correspondents agree that any immediate danger of an outbreak of war is over, but there is a slight check to this opinion. There is a distinct class of observers whose views are founded on very grave circumstances, and who declare that the real danger comes from Russia. There are several ominous signs of the temper of the Czar. First, there is the information which comes from Constantinople that Russian agents have endeavored to organize a military revolt against the Bulgarian regency. The attempt has entirely failed, but will probably be renewed. A second sign is the massing of very large bodies of troops, especially Cossacks, on the Galician frontier, and the third is a meeting of Russian generals at St. Petersburg which was summoned for this month. The most serious of all is the news which is already spread abroad in the Polish press that the contemplated suppression of Degiers is about to take place. His successor will be Pobidonostichieff, who is one of the triumvirate of reactionary Panslavists who have the Czar's sympathy and practically rule Russia and govern her foreign policy. The statement has even been made that Russia has definitely determined on war, and is simply waiting a chance to attack some point of the Austrian frontier. This is the blackest spot on the horizon. The brightest is the prospect of a strong alliance between Italy and the two German powers. The Italian parties are divided as to the wisdom of such an alliance, but it is safe to say that there is more probability of it at this moment than at any period within the last two years.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Proposed Policy of Coercion Toward the Parnellites.

LONDON, March 2.—[By Cable.] The Conservative movement, with the object of forcing the government to deal with Ireland immediately, is assuming a critical phase. A number of Liberal Unionists, consisting of about 150 government supporters, have intimated to whips their willingness to assist in finishing the clôture debate and curtailing discussions on supply by protracted sittings, continuing all night if necessary. The Cabinet council convoked for today was postponed by Lord Salisbury an hour before the time fixed for the meeting, in order to enable him to have separate consultations with the ministers and to try to reconcile the differences on the extent to which coercion shall be carried in Ireland. The Cabinet meeting will be held tomorrow.

TORIES SEVERELY SCORED.

Viscount Lymington has written a letter, which reflected the feeling of the Liberal Unionists, protesting that the government's want of action, nerve and courage is paralyzing their treatment of the Irish question, and taking, day by day, all the heart and principle out of the Unionist cause. He declares that a vast majority of the Liberal Unionists are ready to accord the government whatever strong measures may be necessary, but that it is insufferable, from any point of view, that an Irish Nationalist government should be permitted to exist which, while refusing Ireland power to govern itself, refuses to govern Ireland. After denouncing the half-hearted, pettifogging measures, the prostitution of constitutional forms, such as jury-packing and the policy of fumbling lawyers and confused officials, he concludes: "An irresolute government is impossible; the only alternative is home rule."

GLADSTONE ON THE IRISH QUESTION.

Gladstone writes to the editor of the Baptist: "I consider that there is no opportunity yet for the disestablishment of the Welsh Church. No great political matter can be dealt with till the Irish difficulty is settled. An attempt by force to postpone the Irish question would only increase the confusion and pressure. The main reason why the Irish question is so troublesome, obtrusive and provoking is because it involves the social order of that country, and social questions push their claims for precedence over others."

FOREIGN NOTES.

A Critical State of Affairs in Zanzibar.

LONDON, March 2.—[By Cable.] Advices from Zanzibar say: "Natives of the province of Mozambique, taking advantage of the absence of the Portuguese squadron and troops at Lungi, have risen and devastated the trading stations and destroyed many British houses. The town of Mozambique is now threatened. The British Consul has telegraphed for a man-of-war to protect the lives and property of British subjects."

THE NEW ENTERPRISE.

A Dry Sparkling Champagne Banquet at the Nadeau Last Night.

The opening banquet of the Dry Sparkling Champagne Company was repeated at the Nadeau House last evening, the feast beginning at 9 o'clock. Dr. Griffin acted as host for the occasion. County Tax Collector Stevenson presided, and the chief guest of the occasion, Gen. Miles, sat at his left, while about forty others nearly surrounded the loaded tables. The banquet was pronounced as elegant as could be asked for, and the supply of Dry Sparkling Champagne was more than ample. The feast had hardly gotten under way when the toast, "The company," was drank with a zest. The host announced that although he was one of Her Majesty's subjects, yet he felt an honor in enjoying the protection of the Stars and Stripes, and would propose the toast, "The President," which was drank standing. "The Army and its able representative, Gen. Miles," was the next toast, to which the General responded in a happy vein. He said he didn't know why he was called on to respond unless it was because the army consumes all the wine and everything within reach that is good and pure. He further spoke on the possibilities of the wine-growing interests in Southern California, and made a comparison with the producers of France very favorable to California. The General referred to the advantages of soil and climate of Southern Arizona as very similar to those of this vicinity, and advocated an appropriation by the Government to develop that territory, even if certain shallow rivers should not be made navigable.

Judge Barnes, of Arizona, spoke eloquently on the subject of the evening, and showed the demand for increased vine growing in this country in these figures: France has 3,000,000 acres in vines, California 300,000 acres, the whole United States but 500,000 acres. Dr. Griffin and Dr Fryer, of Kansas City, also spoke briefly. Ralph E. Hoyt made the humorous speech of the evening, and a number of other gentlemen spoke commending the wine so generously sampled and encouraged the enterprise of which the banquet was a result.

CURTIS & SWEETSER

THE WINE MEN.

They Will Hold a State Viticultural Convention, March 7th.

The following circular explains itself:

Owing to the announcement made by the State Board of Viticultural Commissioners, that they would not be able to devote for the purpose sufficient funds to insure the holding of a successful State convention the present season, and appreciating the great benefit heretofore derived by the viticulturists of California from the annual State conventions heretofore inaugurated and conducted by the Viticultural Commissioners, it has been decided to hold a general State convention under the auspices of the Grape Growers' and Wine Makers' Association of California.

All persons in any way interested in viniculture or viticulture in the various branches, whether as producers of wine, brandy, raisins or other viticultural products, or as dealers in the same, and manufacturers and dealers in viticultural implements, are hereby invited to be present at the convention without further notice.

A committee of the following named gentlemen has been appointed to solicit funds to defray the necessary expenses of the convention, and to invite producers and others to send exhibits of their viticultural products: D. A. Scrimgeour, Napa county; Charles Kohler, Jr., Sonoma county; A. I. Sweetzer, Solano county; D. C. Feely, Santa Clara county; A. Erz, Los Angeles county; C. C. McIver, Mission San José, and F. L. Fowler, Livermore, Alameda county; M. Denicke, Fresno county; William Palmtag, San Benito county; M. Keatinge, Lake county, and Dr. J. A. Stewart, Santa Cruz county.

All who are willing to contribute money for the above purpose may hand their subscriptions to any member of that committee, or can forward the same to any of the undersigned.

Those who send samples of wine, brandy, raisins or other products, or implements, are requested to forward them to "Viticultural Convention, Grand Hotel, San Francisco," in time for them to arrive as early as the 4th day of March, otherwise it may be impossible to classify them in time for proper examination.

It is not the intention to have any competition between individuals as to the merits of their respective products, but all are requested to taste and examine for themselves, and draw their own conclusions. However, in the general interest of producers, proper committees will be appointed to carefully examine all samples sent, who will be asked to report on the distinctive characteristics of the products of the different districts of the State, in order to lay a foundation for classification of the types produced within the boundaries of well-defined districts.

The convention will be held at the Grand Hotel, San Francisco, commencing Monday, the 7th day of March, 1887, at 11 o'clock a.m., and will continue four days. The annual election of the officers of the association will be held during the first day, and all members are expected to be present without further notice.

Distinguished speakers representing the Viticultural Commission, the University of California, the producers, the merchants, etc., have been invited to address the convention, and a proper programme will be prepared announcing the order of the exercises.

TWO FRIENDS MEET.

"Hello! old fellow. What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a $100,000 laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great Medical.

California Remedies of Sarsfield Remedies Co.

Sarsfield's Remedy for the Blood and Constipation.

Sarsfield's Remedy for Diphtheria and Pneumonia.

Sarsfield's Chronic Ulcer Salve.

These remedies are well-known in Central and Northern California, and are now introduced in the southern counties. The MAKING OF CERTIFICATES has related so largely to fraud that the public has naturally grown suspicious of them. But those here referred to are by such prominent citizens, of such irreproachable character, and the cures are so well-known, and the witnesses are so easy to reach, that we make the references without any hesitation:

MRS. H. C. GOODRIDGE, 28 Hawthorne street, San Francisco, 9 years a sufferer from chronic ulcers, and her case abandoned by physicians, permanently cured. Certified to by Mrs. Sarah B. Cooper, the well-known philanthropist and president of the Kindergarten Association, San Francisco.

MRS. M. R. ADAMS, formerly of Sacramento, completely cured at the residence of her brother, Benjamin Welch, master car-builder of the Southern Pacific Company, Sacramento, of running sore on the arm of 3 years' standing, and that had nearly sapped her life.

W. S. DOAN, noted inventor of the steam wagon, Sacramento, 33 years of fever sores, cured in 40 days. Certified to by William Guttenberger, ex-City Trustee, Sacramento; Alex. Neilson, John Driscoll and H. G. F. Root, proprietor of the Union Foundry, and others.

JAMES MCCORMICK, vice-president Bank of Redding, Shasta county, 8 years' suffering from worst character of rectal ulcer, permanently cured in 3½ months.

W. A. DEAN, brother-in-law of M. H. de Young, of the San Francisco Chronicle, cured of aggravated piles and fistula in five weeks.

REV. J. T. HUFF, Turner Station, Or. (refers to Rev. Dr. Frost, Sacramento), cured of BLOOD POISONING of many years by use of the BLOOD REMEDY and SALVE. His letter is a remarkably warm indorsement.

We are also permitted to refer to Hon. IRA G HOLTT, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Sacramento; L. A. Upson, Sacramento; A. D. Carvill, of Carvill Manufacturing Company, San Francisco; Judge George E. Williams, Placerville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lux (Lux & Miller), San Francisco; C. B. Corwin, 925 Market street, San Francisco, and a host of others as well known.

These cures have been made by the use of the BLOOD REMEDY and ULCER SALVE, which are HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES, etc., effective in imputities of the BLOOD and diseases of the LIVER and KIDNEYS, CHRONIC CONSTIPATION, PILES, FISTULAS, etc.

Manufactured and For Sale by the
SARSFIELD REMEDIES COMPANY,
115 EDDY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, and by all reputable druggists. Price, $1 per bottle for the Blood Remedy and $1 and 50c. per box for the Salve, according to size.

A Boston dispatch has the following on the Wool market:

"The tone of the whole market is about as unsatisfactory as reported last week. Manufacturers continue to hold off, in expectation of lower prices, and are confining the purchases to small lots for immediate use. Oregon Wool is rather quiet. Sales, 50,000 pounds. Eastern has been reported at 17@22c., and 25,000 pounds were sold on private terms. Advices from Oregon report no considerable loss of sheep, but in Montana a great loss has been sustained, it is reported. California Wool continues dull."

THE RAILROADS.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM ALL ALONG THE RAIL.

The Missouri Pacific and Texas and Pacific All Right, and S. P. Gets "Cussed"—San Diego County Lines—Monrovia's Hopes, Etc.

The situation in railroad circles is interesting, but not sensational, the most important news being the incorporation of the San Jacinto Railroad, with a Santa Fé directory.

WOULDN'T HOLD WATER.

A TIMES representative yesterday hunted up the traveler whose communication—signed "One who suffered," and burning up the management of the Missouri Pacific excursion that got here Monday night—was printed in yesterday's TIMES. He is a commercial tourist from New York, and came with the excursion all the way from St. Louis. Upon examination it proved that his indiscriminate censure of the whole affair was undeserved and careless. He said frankly that the excursion itself was all right; that it was excellently managed over the lines of the Missouri Pacific and the Texas and Pacific, and that no one could have any ground of complaint against either of those lines. Col. McCord, the manager, was all right, and so were the conductors. The party had no trouble whatever until they got to El Paso, but from there to this city they were in one perpetual stew. The whole trouble lay with the S. P. R. R., and upon it he had intended to lay all the blame. The passengers had been brought to meal stations at unearthly and irregular hours, and then the meals "were not fit to eat." It will be remembered that a "Sunset" excursion, got up by the S. P. itself, reached this city nine hours ahead of the Missouri Pacific excursi n. This traveler states that between here and El Paso his excursion was eight hours ahead of the "Sunset," and that his party was coolly side-tracked in the blazing desert until the "Sunset" excursion could pass them and get in here first. Their own schedule time for arrival here was 9 a.m. Monday, and they got here at 11 p.m.

NIAGARA AND SAN JACINTO RAILROAD.

The Niagara and San Jacinto Railroad Company have issued the following circular:

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 26, 1887.—We have decided to build a railroad from Niagara to San Jacinto, whether a railroad is built from Perris or not, as we have the best and shortest route. The point of connection with the California Southern Railroad will be 3 miles north of Elsinore station. The length of the road will not exceed 18 miles, while the distance of the proposed road from Perris is 20 miles, and from Murrieta 25 miles. Our railroad will run through the center of the best land between San Jacinto and the line of the California Southern Railroad.

We have had the surveyors in the field during the past ten days, and have rushed matters with all possible speed, and have commenced the grading from Niagara, which townsite of 640 acres we are half owners of, and intend to make it a rival to Colton. Several thousand acres of land have been donated to us, conditioned on the completion of our road within one year. We believe a railroad to San Jacinto is a necessity, and will in the course of time bring good returns to its owners, as well as greatly benefit San Jacinto and the country adjacent. We make this announcement to inform those interested that a railroad will be built from Niagara to San Jacinto as soon as possible, and hope that we will receive the hearty support of the people of San Jacinto and vicinity as well as those of Elsinore. D. C. REED.

President Niagara and San Jacinto Railroad Company.

WILLIAM H. CARLSON, Secretary.

Directors—D. C. Reed, Henry A. Nelson, H. T. Christian, William H. Carlson, Thomas J. Daley.

MONROVIA'S HOPES.

The Monrovia Planet says: The Planet announced a few weeks ago that the Southern Pacific Railway Company were talking of building a branch line from Ramona, on the main line of their road, up to the foothills of the Sierra Madre mountains, along below the town of Sierra Madre, the upper end of Santa Anita, and through Monrovia and Duarte, to connect with the main line somewhere east. Whether this is really their intention or not remains for the future to record, but the Planet can state the fact that a party of engineers, under Chief Griffiths, is camped a short distance west of Monrovia, and are busily engaged on a new line of railway along the foothills. A line had been run from Ramona this far, and on Thursday was continued on through to Duarte and the San Gabriel River. The line through the town is on Chestnut avenue, and follows the road along past the postoffice at Duarte.

The idea of the Southern Pacific Company seems to be to sandwich the San Gabriel road between their two lines. Everything so far has been kept "mum," and only a few, if any, have been made aware of the plans of the company. Such a line as this would be of vast importance to Monrovia, as it would run near the center of the town and give us far better facilities than we now have. The San Gabriel road is about one mile away from the center of the town, which makes it very inconvenient for the traveling public. Such a line as the Southern Pacific proposes would draw the larger part of the passenger traffic to and from the city, as it would run nearer the towns and be a shorter line. We shall see what we shall see.

IN POMONA.

The Pomona Times-Courier of the 26th says: The graders of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad are now at work—one crew on the south end of C. F. Loop's place, and the other on the Austin place, east of the Palomares schoolhouse. The grade is completed to the line of Alfred H. Smith's place, on the east, but owing to no right of way having been secured through Mr. Smith's lands, the strip has been skipped for the time being, and the forces are at work west of it. There is about 15 miles of a gap to close between this point and the bridge across the San Gabriel. The work is progressing at the rate of a mile and a half per day. Two weeks more at the farthest will in all probability complete the grading, and through trains will be running in less than two months and a half. The line of the road, where it crosses the Pomona Valley, north of town, runs through some of the fine orchards, and whole rows of orange, olive, apricot, plum and other fruit trees are being sacrificed on the lands of Ruttan, Wheeler, Rhorer, Loop, Meserve and others. On the place of Mr. Meserve, where the depot grounds are located, some 70 oranges, 60 odd apricots and 104 prunes are now being dug up. Work on the siding at the new depot grounds was to have begun today. The center of the depot grounds is a point 80 feet west of the center of the road running to Dr. Parson's house, and the reservation extends 2200 feet east and west.

SAN JACINTO RAILROAD.

The San Diego Union of the 1st says: "The articles of incorporation of the San Jacinto Railroad Company were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday. The directors are: George O. Manchester, Boston, Mass.; C. W. Smith, Topeka, Kan.; J. F. Crank, A. W. Francisco, Los Angeles, and E. S. Babcock, Jr., of San Diego. It is the intention of this corporation to construct and operate a road to extend from a point near the town of Perris, on the line of the California Southern, to a point in the eastern portion of San Jacinto Valley. The estimated length of the line is twenty-five miles. The principal business offices and general headquarters of the company will be located in San Bernardino. The capital stock of the company is $500,000, divided into 5000 shares at the par value of $100 each. Twenty-five thousand dollars' worth of the stock has already been subscribed by the following persons: Geo. O. Manchester, $200; C. W. Smith, $23,800; J. F. Crank, $200; A. W. Francisco, $200; E. S. Babcock, Jr., $400; Fred. T. Perris, $200. Herman Silver was elected treasurer, and ten per cent. of the capital stock has been paid over to him.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

Ex-Gov. John C. Brown, one of the receivers of the Texas and Pacific Railway, tells a St. Louis correspondent that the road is being put in excellent condition, and the management contemplate an outlay on it this year of $3,000,000 or more, which would bring it up to the standard of the finest roads in the country. There will be no extension of the road's lines, but all the management's efforts will be made in the direction of improving the roadbed and equipment. Gov. Brown was certain that the road will be taken from the hands of the receivers inside of a year.

SHORT OF RAILS.

The Ventura Free Press of the 26th says: "Yesterday the railroad track was laid within three-quarters of a mile of Saticoy. There is a rumor that the company is short of rails again, which may delay the completion of the road to Ventura for a few days."

SPIKES.

A Missouri Pacific excursion leaves St. Louis, March 9th, for Southern California. It will return by the Canadian Pacific.

The Pomona Times-Courier says: "Mr. Breeden moved into the new depot yesterday, and in the afternoon passenger trains stopped there. The depot presents a handsome appearance now that it is finished."

E. McCammon, who for five years has been the chief train dispatcher of the Atlantic and Pacific road, has resigned the position to accept the trainmastership of the Colorado Midland road, with headquarters at Colorado Springs.

It is understood that L. Blankenhorn, who recently resigned his position as general freight and passenger agent of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel Valley, has been tendered the auditorship of the Santa Fé's consolidated lines in Southern California, of which H. Silver is treasurer and secretary.

WOODFORD'S LECTURES.

Another Interesting Discourse on Temperance.

Col. Woodford lectured again last evening on temperance. Following is a synopsis of his remarks:

It is a fact that we ought never to lose sight of in considering the sin and misery of this life, that most of it can be prevented. This is peculiarly true of the evil of intemperance. Drunkenness is impossible under God's law. It is the one sin that nature has made no provision for. We say a man gets drunk; God says he is made drunk.

During this one hour 120 persons will be reeling in drunkenness, 12 will die a drunkard's death, 224 children will be born to a heritage of woe through inherited tendencies to strong drink, 336 women will marry men who will become drunkards, 44 women will be broken-hearted, 44 children will be bequeathed to the cold arms of charity, the lamp of reason will go out from the lives of 10 of the victims of strong drink, 14 nameless crimes will be committed and 3 suicides. These are the average figures for every hour in the day, as compiled by Bishop Fowler, of the Methodist Church, 11 years ago.

When we license a saloon we give a moral indorsement to drunkenness.

I believe we will get to the time when we will have more humanity than to put ball and chain upon men who have been too weak to resist the temptation we have put in their way.

Whisky-drinking at first is a vicious habit, further on it becomes a vice. Whisky-selling is a crime—a simple, unadulterated crime, and should be recognized as such.

Upon whose skirts is the blood of a murdered man—murdered by a man who was drunk? It is not the saloon nor the saloon-keeper, but those men back of it who made it possible for that man to get drunk. We go right into partnership; we condone the offense; we take a big slice of the profits at the beginning of the year for our treasury. God help us to stand from under this business.

But, says one, we place all the checks upon this business we are able. We protect the children. Do we? In Chicago 40,000 children are not in the public schools. On investigation it was found that a large proportion of them were in the saloons. Thirty thousand of them were the patrons of the saloon. The Citizens' League was formed in Chicago for the sole purpose of protecting the children from the saloon. It was found that the saloon-keepers even offered prizes to those children who in a fixed time could show the greatest capacity for drink. With fourteen solid miles of licensed evil in the streets of Chicago, is it any wonder that such things exist, and that crime among the boys and girls is so rapidly upon the increase? There is not a check that you put upon the saloon but is violated.

It is not the question whether a man has the right to brutalize himself; it is a question of society, of public morals and public safety. What is our duty, then, if we love our homes, our kind, our country? What is our duty, if we would not go down in the common ruin? I want to tell you that the saloons of Los Angeles are more than a match for the churches. You may build a $100,000 hall for the Young Men's Christian Association. When it is fully equipped you may stand before its doors some night and count the young men who enter its doors, and then count the young men who go into any one of the saloons of your city. You will find that the saloon has a firmer grip upon young men than the Y. M. C. A. Men, you must be stirred through and through and through, else the saloons of this town will be more than a match for your homes and your little ones.

Every evening Col. Woodford presents some new feature of this important question. Thursday evening's lecture at the South Methodist Church, and gospel meeting at 3 p.m.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS. ON WASHINGTON ST., 100 FEET WIDE.

The future grand boulevard from Los Angeles to the Pacific Ocean.

The plateau of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS offers the most magnificent view to be beheld in Southern California, embracing the whole of the Los Angeles Valley and extending from San Pedro and Santa Monica on the Pacific Ocean, across the plains to the foothills, and up to the snowy heights of the Sierra Madre Mountains. This tableland, or mesa, is perfectly level and unbroken, but 60 feet higher than the elevation of Spring or Main streets. To reach it there are no hills to climb, and as the streets leading from the center of Los Angeles city up to it follow the same even grade it is as easy of access as Washington Gardens. The soil of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS is a rich loam, mellow and friable at all seasons and easy to cultivate. The vineyards and orchards surrounding it give undisputed evidence that every acre of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS will produce grapes and fruit without irrigation. A stratum of purest well water is struck anywhere on the tract at a depth of from 30 to 60 feet. The plateau of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS is unequaled for health. A gentle breeze from the Pacific Ocean fans it daily; sea fogs never reach its elevation, and frosts being almost unknown on the "mesa," the most tender plants, such as tomato vines, bear fruit there every day of the year. The Santa Monica branch of the S. P. R. R. runs alongside this elegant tract; the present terminus of the electric street railroad is distant one-half mile from ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, and it is expected that it will be extended to and through ARLINGTON HEIGHTS. A free carriage is running from the electric road to ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, and the two-horse street-car line is now being extended through Washington street to an easy walking distance from this tract. The elevated plateau of ARLINGTON HEIGHTS terminates in a ridge or descent of 60 feet just south of Adams street, and in a similar ridge north of Pico street. On these ridges are located the most magnificent building sites in Los Angeles. No houses can ever be built high enough in front of them to obstruct that glorious view of mountain, valley and ocean; from Catalina Island to San Jacinto Peak, and down again over the broad acres, orchards and vineyards, of fair Los Angeles Valley, to the blue waves of the Pacific Ocean beyond the coast of Santa Monica. Whosoever wishes for a beautiful home sheltered from the noise and bustle of a busy city, but within a twenty minutes' drive of the Plaza, should select in ARLINGTON HEIGHTS a lot of 5½ acres whereon to build his house.

During the last few years it has occurred frequently that men have bought five or ten acres in Los Angeles, sold off one-half in lots for the price of the whole, and retained valuable grounds for a home, thus free of cost. Such chances are offered today in ARLINGTON HEIGHTS. The present owners, Dan McFarland, William H. Bonsall, Theodore Wiesendanger, Messrs. J. P. and Edw. McCarthy, Turner and McBratney, purchased this large body of land at a low price; they offer it now in smaller tracts, or lots, at prices to suit all, and purchasers who make their selections now get all the benefit of a first choice for bargains in a vast tract of land. Every city has its one fashionable suburb, not too distant from the center of activity nor too near its noisy streets. ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, through a happy combination of advantages, promises to become what St. Cloud is to Paris, or Richmond to the city of London.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS hitherto was one vast body of land of nearly 700 acres. Our map shows a magnificent subdivision of it into 5½-acre blocks, 660x660 feet, including streets, each containing 24 lots 50x150 or 300 feet, and each surrounded on all sides by streets 60, 80 or 100 feet wide. Investors who are able to appreciate the importance of a well-planned subdivision will foretell a great future to this tract, with its miles of wide streets, intersecting each other at right angles. The elegant lawns and stately mansions of the rich will be found here within a short time, and purchasers who take advantage of our low prices and easy terms will reap a golden harvest of their investment in ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.
